

Vkusno i tochka (Russian: Вкусно — и точка, IPA: [ˈfkusnə i ˈtot͡ɕkə] lit. 'Tasty, period^{[2][3]} or 'Delicious, full stop^{[4][5]}^[a]) is a Russian fast food chain based in former McDonald's restaurants, with a menu that largely consists of rebranded McDonald's items. McDonald's closed their Russian stores in response to the Russian invasion of Ukraine; Vkusno i tochka restaurants mostly occupy former McDonald's restaurants that were sold to business magnate and entrepreneur Alexander Govor, who was a company licensee in Siberia.^{[6][7][8][9][10]}

The first restaurants in Russia were opened on 12 June 2022.^[11]

History

Opening of the first Vkusno i tochka restaurant in Pushkin Square, Moscow, 12 June 2022. Formerly the first Russian McDonald's in the country.

On 8 March 2022, facing continued pressure due to the Russian invasion of Ukraine, McDonald's announced the temporary suspension of operation of its restaurants in Russia, while also announcing at the same time that it would continue to pay its employees in the country.^{[12][13]} The restaurants were taken over by the CEO of McDonald's Russia, Oleg Paroyev, and remained open as of mid-March 2022.

On 16 May 2022, the company decided to leave Russia altogether.^[14] On 27 May 2022, it was reported that McDonald's was selling its stores in Russia to a local licensee, Alexander Govor. Patent filings showed "Fun and Tasty" and "The Same One" as some of the possible brand names for the firm taking over McDonald's in Russia.^[15] Shortly after the announcement, the company replaced the McDonald's logo in favor of their own logo.^[16] The new name of the chain was later announced as Vkusno i tochka (Russian: Вкусно — и точка), translated as "Tasty and that's it".^{[17][2]} The legal entity remained the same but was renamed from McDonald's LLC to PBO System LLC, with Oleg Paroyev remaining as CEO.^[18]

Belarus

Mak.by

In November 2022, it was announced that McDonald's was leaving Belarus on 22 November and the Russian fast food chain "Vkusno i tochka" would take its place.^{[24][25]} However, this did not happen, and the operations of McDonald's was extended until 27 November; since then, the restaurants operated under the sign "We are open!"^{[26][27][28]}

In early April 2023, KSB Victory Restaurants (operators of McDonald's in the country) filed an application for registration of the name and trademark "Mak.by".^[29] On April 18, 2023, the restaurant chain was renamed Mak.by.^{[30][31]}

Kazakhstan

MyOtkryty

In January 2023, McDonald's closed its restaurants in Kazakhstan, believed to be due to supply issues, with its restaurants later rebranded to MyOtkryty.^[32]

"Vkusno i tochka" will not work under its brand in Kazakhstan due to the terms of the contract with McDonald's.^[33] However Vkusno i tochka applied to register its brand name.^[34]

Menu

At the initial stage of the opening, the restaurants did not carry every menu item that they had originally planned for due to supply chain issues and packaging logistics. According to the quality manager Alexander Merkulov, the dishes contain the same ingredients and are made with the same equipment as when McDonald's operated the restaurants, but are served with different packaging.^[35]

"Vkusno i tochka" did not serve the Big Mac until February 2023.^[36] Due to The Coca-Cola Company's departure from Russia, supplies for Coca-Cola were running low as of June 2022.^[37] In September, Vkusno i tochka replaced Coca-Cola brand drinks with analogous drinks of the brand Dobry (which is also produced by the Russian subsidiary of Coca-Cola HBC).^[38]

As of July 2023, the chain serves the following items (the McDonald's items they replace are in parentheses):^[39]

- Hamburger, Cheeseburger and Double Cheeseburger
- Big Hit (Big Mac) and Double Big Hit
- Grand (Quarter Pounder with Cheese / McRoyal), Double Grand and Grand Deluxe (Quarter Pounder with Cheese Deluxe)
- Big Special (Big Tasty), Double Big Special, Big Special Junior, Big Special Roast beef and Big Chicken Burger (Big Tasty Chicken)
- Fishburger (Filet-O-Fish) and Double Fishburger
- Chickenburger (Junior Chicken), Chicken Hit (McChicken) and Chicken Premier (Seriously Chicken)
- Barcelona Burger, Barcelona Burger with chicken
- Caesar Roll (McWrap), Big Special Roll, Shrimp Roll and Fresh Roll
- French Fries, Grand Fries, potato wedges and potato slices
- Chicken nuggets, chicken strips, mozzarella dippers, cheese triangles Chorizo, shrimp, apple slices and carrot sticks
- Vegetable salad, Caesar salad and Caesar salad with shrimp

Controversies and criticisms

Logo and name

Since the opening of the restaurant chain, many users of the social networks VKontakte and Twitter didn't like the name "Tasty - and that's it", some users reported that the variant of the name "Uncle Vanya" was not so bad.^[40] Critics of the new logo have noted its similarity to the logo of Marriott International, which also operates in Russia. For example, some said that the logo looks like "the logo of the Marriott hotel combined with the Flag of Bangladesh."^[41] On the opening day, one of the protesters held up a banner: "Bring back Big Mac!". He was quickly removed from the scene.^{[41][42]}

According to Nikolai Grigoriev, member of the Board of the Guild of Marketeers, the name of the fast food chain will not take root among consumers, he believes that the network may soon be renamed due to inconvenience of the name:

It's a long name. Imagine a young man telling another: «Let's go to "Tasty and that's it."». Here the simplest analogy is Sber. They just shortened it, or, to say more precisely, officially instated it.

According to the marketeer, the old name "McDonald's" will soon disappear from the lexicon of the Russian consumers, and, to not pronounce the long phrase, clients of the chain will make up their own. On 13 June, various messages appeared claiming that the logo of "Vkusno i tochka" is a lazy alteration of a Portuguese pet food brand "Matosmix".^[43]

On 15 June, the director of a fast food chain known as "Food, full stop" (Russian: Еда и точка) in Primorski Krai, Sergei Ponkratov, accused the new chain of plagiarism and decided to sue it, demanding a change of the name. He claims that the Vkusno i tochka brand clearly intersects with and deprives his trademark, which has been operating since 2018, of uniqueness and recognizability.^{[44][45]}

Problems with food

On 3 July, a customer of one of the Vkusno i tochka restaurants of the Khoroshyovo-Mnyovniki District complained about a burger with mold. The press office of the chain said that they had started an investigation into the moldy bun and contacted the manufacturer to clarify the circumstances of the incident.^{[46][47]}

On 4 July, the Telegram channel of Ksenia Sobchak, "Bloody mistress" (Russian: Кровавая барыня), reported that the chain's restaurant in Arbat "serves potatoes with cheese sauces that were expired by one day". The press office of Vkusno i tochka claimed that all the sauces were double-checked, "only a small part was expired, it has already been removed from sale... We are additionally checking the sauces in other enterprises so that this does not happen again." There was also an incident in Altufyevo, which was connected with restaurant production: buns, lying on a tray on the street, were eaten by crows and pigeons.^{[47][48]} In response, the press office of Vkusno i tochka said that the buns were bird food, noting that "Quality and safety of production is our main priority. The video captured the process of unloading. All upper bun trays, regardless of damage, were decommissioned."^[49] In addition, users of Twitter complained that insects parts have been found in burgers at Vkusno i tochka.^[46]

In July 2022, some restaurants of the chain said they would temporarily stop serving fries due to a shortage of the correct potato variety.^[50]
